Ex-CIA Chief Dulles Doubtful About 'Spy-Swaps'

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Allen Dulles, former head of the Central Intelligence Agency, has expressed doubts over continued spy swaps between the United States and Russia.

Dulles was featured speaker at the closing session of the American Gas Association and Pacific Coast Gas Association joint convention here. He said at a press conference later that continued "spy-swapping" with the USSR carries the danger that "the Soviet Union, as it has in the past, will arrest innocent American travelers and throw them in jail."

He said he approved the exchange of U2 Pilot Gary Powers for Soviet Master Spy Col. Rudolph Abel in 1961, but claimed "the general idea of swapping gives me some concern."

"We have a situation where it is easier for the Soviet Union to plant spies in a free society than it is for the Free World to put them in a police society where travelers need papers and movement is restricted," he observed.
